Dedication

The following pages reflect some of the many traditions observed at Rider. Many of these date back to the first year Rider was open. Some are obvious, some are hidden, but all are important and meaningful. Through the years we have upheld old traditions and created many new ones. The 79 RAIDER staff dedicates this book to . . .

Reflections

When Stephen Hendrix Rider High School opened her doors in 1961, the campus consisted of the present B, C, and D wings, a partial track, four tennis courts and parking space for 450 cars. Nine hundred thirty students attended the new high school, but no seniors were enrolled.

The first athletic teams faced many difficulties. Rider was in District 4-AAA and the football team finished the year with a 2-6-1 record while the basketball team had a 1-11 season. The Raiders played their opening football game wearing the red and white jerseys of the WFHS Rowdies because they had no uniforms.

The student body chose the name "Raiders" over "Rough Riders" by a vote of 795 to 103. Other names suggested were "Razorbacks" and "Rebels". The school colors, gold and black, were selected over orange and white by a vote of 476 to 418.

Over the years, Rider grew in size. Many additions to the campus in recent years include a completed track, two new tennis courts and bleachers, new parking lots, a new gym, locker rooms, a new band hall, vending machines, E and F wings and several buildings at the back of the school.

Now completing her eighteenth year, Rider is the biggest school in town, not only in enrollment, but in spirit as well.

Art class creates a door decoration for Roundup Week 6. Tennis team enjoys their car wash 7. Seniors do the traditional "Who are we, we are the S-E-N-I-O-R-S 8. Seniors provide music for the Roundup skit.

Traditions of Pride

Some students in every school seem to stand apart from the average; they seem to work harder and achieve more than anyone else. Some are honored for their efforts and involvement in the life of Rider, others for outstanding academic achievements.

Honors include selection of Favorites, Beauties, DAR Good Citizen, National Honor Society, Scholastic Awards, Quill and Scroll, Athletic Awards, Twelfth Man, Tech School Awards, Cheerleaders, Raider Crew, Music Sweethearts, National Merit Awards and many others.

Crowning Adds Final Touch to Roundup Week Festivities

Roundup Week, one of the oldest traditions at Rider, was celebrated October 9-13. The senior class held an assembly and Hal Harbor, class president, explained that each senior could nominate one girl and one boy for Mr. and Miss Raider, the highest honor which any student can receive. The votes were tallied by the sponsors and the nominees were kept secret until October 11, the day of the Roundup Assembly. As part of the skit, the nominees were introduced as popular t.v. personalities. All students then returned to their classes and voted for the candidate of their choice. The highlight of the week was the announcement of the winners at the dance October 13. Last year's winners presented the new Mr. and Miss Raider with the traditional black cowboy hats. Andrea Borders and Steve Baxter were chosen by the student body as the couple best representing Rider in spirit and friendliness, true qualities of a Raider. Nominees were top row: Eddie McAlvain, Gwyn Parker, Maurice Knight, Kim Darnell, Anthony Scott. Standing: Billy Dollar, Leigh Carnes, Anita Simpson, Hal Harbor. Bottom row: Melvin Myles, Carless Grays, Sarah Taylor, Pat Galyean, Jill Shipp, and Jimmy Black.

Cheerleaders Build Spirit

With tremendous enthusiasm the cheerleaders helped to promote the spirit of Rider by demonstrating the true meaning of pride. After being elected by the student body in May, they attended a camp where they learned new cheers, game knowledge and different techniques. In August they began serious preparations for the football season. When school started the cheerleaders attended all pep rallies, gym decorations, freshmen, JV, and varsity games. By putting forward their very best, they represented the school with "True Raider Spirit."

Raider Crew went "all out" and really promoted spirit throughout the entire school. This selected group of senior guys were always enthusiastic, whether they were cleaning up the gym after a pep rally or collecting money for various projects. Some of the many highlights of the year were holding the cheerleaders on their shoulders at games, performing skits at pep rallies and Coyote Week. Probably the main reason this crew was so influential was that they were totally united and always backed the Raiders in rain or shine.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society is a Nation-wide organization for high school honor students. To qualify for nomination a senior must have maintained a 3.2 grade average all through high school, and a junior must have maintained a 3.7 grade point average. From this already outstanding group, the faculty votes on the personal character, scholarship, and citizenship of each individual and chooses 41 seniors and 27 juniors to join the 26 two-year members and form the S.H. Rider chapter of the National Honor Society. Activities this year included breakfasts, Christmas caroling, a party with the honor societies of the other high schools in town, and a banquet.

Mike Cook Fighting Heart Award

By team vote the Mike Cook was given to Melvin for his leadership, determination, and outstanding team spirit.

Garry Robertson

Bill Stevens Award

The Bill Stevens was given to Garry for his hard work, dedication, loyalty and desire to win.

In Memoriam

Crossing the Bar
by Alfred, Lord Tennyson

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For though from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crost the bar.

Traditions of Victory

Throughout the years, Raiders have traditionally been winners if not winners in score, then in spirit and sportsmanship. Participation in athletics teaches students discipline and character and creates lasting friendships. Not one, but all the Raider teams exemplify true sportsmanship, team loyalty and above all, Raider Pride . . . Melvin Myles shows dribbling ability . . . Mike Adams and Bill Dunkelberg play golf for fun . . . Carol Massey strives for perfection . . . Raiders get another hit . . . Maurice Knight shows Raider determination . . . Leslie Hale gets in shape for a winning year.

Raiders Post Winning Season

Although they did not win district, the Raiders' 8-2 record, third best in school history, upheld the winning tradition of previous teams.

After losing their season opener to Abilene High 20-6, the Raiders rallied to a six-game winning streak, ending with a 13-9 loss to Lewisville.

Although the loss ended the Raider hopes for a District 6AAAA title, the team went on to defeat Carrollton Turner and crosstown rival Wichita Falls High.

The 12-0 shutout of WFHS was the sixth year in a row the Raiders have defeated the Coyotes.

Raiders get ready to roll.

Eagles Slip Past ROHO 20-6

Mistakes caused Rider's opening game loss to Abilene High 20-6. Three touchdowns were called back by miscues of the Raider offense. The Rider defense had allowed only one touchdown, on a long pass in the first quarter, until two Abilene drives produced points in the fourth quarter. The Raiders' only score that counted came on a 57 yard strike from Maurice Knight to Aaron Brown. Steve Baxter also helped the Raider offense with 70 yards rushing.

Raiders Dump Plainsmen 17-0

The Raiders won their first game of the year with a 17-0 victory over Lubbock Monterrey. The Rider scoring was led by Maurice Knight's 39-yard touchdown pass to Craig Stevenson. Scott Cullins kicked a field goal and Steve Baxter finished the scoring with a touchdown from the 2-yard line.

The Raider defense was led by Brent Scribner, Brian Forbes, Ronnie Culver, Craig Stevenson and John Blue.

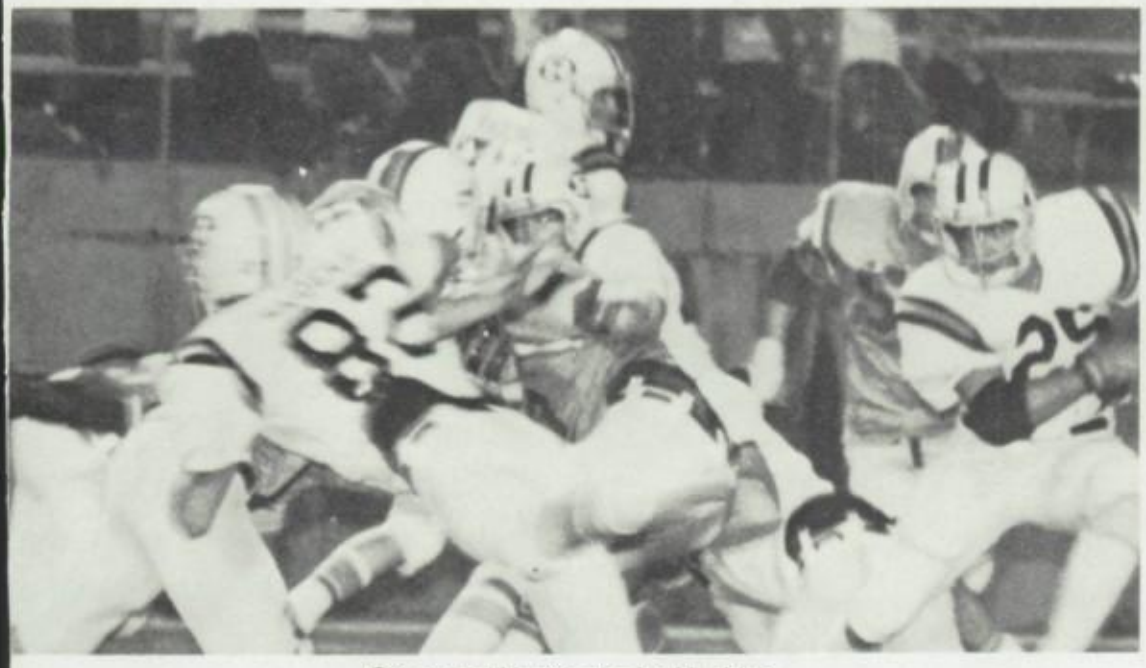
Raiders blitz Huskies 35-7



Steve and Hunter rip the Huskies.

The Raiders third game of the year was with crosstown rival Hirschi High. Although a smaller school, Hirschi was favored in the game, but the Raiders cruised to a 35-7 victory.

The Raiders quickly proved who should have been favored as Steve Baxter scored two touchdowns, Aaron Brown caught two touchdown bombs from Maurice Knight, and Troy Williams scored on a two-yard run behind the excellent blocking of the ROHO offensive line.

The Raider defense completely dominated the high powered Husky offense, led by Brent Scribner, John Blue, Craig Stevenson, Brian Forbes, Billy Dollar and Noel Spraggins.

Ronnie drops a Husky.

ROHO Smashes Rebels 42-14

Raiders ready for another big play.

The Raiders put on an awesome offensive and defensive show in beating the Richland Rebels 42-14.

The offense scored every time they touched the ball in the first half, and the defense allowed no Rebel first downs until 6:49 remained in the third quarter. Maurice Knight, Steve Baxter, Scott Cullins, Aaron Brown, Troy Williams and Randy James scored touchdowns. John Blue was 4 for 4 in extra points and Louie Pearce made good his two attempts. The ROHO offensive line, composed of Billy Dollar, John Little, David Lairmore, Donald Craig and Phillip Dowd did an excellent job of blocking.

Raiders Halt Bulldogs 12-0

The Rider Raiders showed they could play tough defense as they blanked the Altus Bulldogs 12-0. Steve Baxter's 4-yard run and Aaron Brown's 47-yard scoring reception from Maurice Knight were the Raider's scores.

Great pass defense and a rock hard defensive front kept the Bulldogs from the Raider endzone. Seven intercepted passes and turning back Altus at the Rider one-yard line highlighted the game.

"Rock" fakes out a Bulldog.

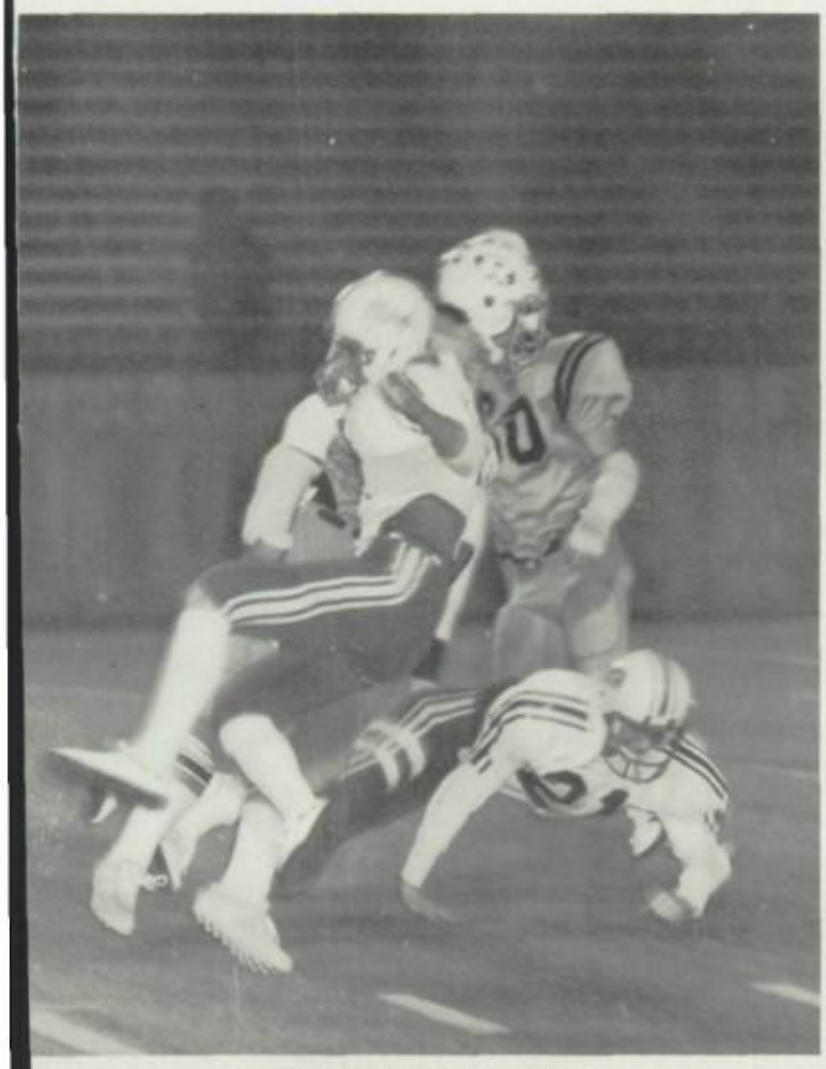
Steve drives for six.

Raiders overpower Smith 46-14

The Rider Raiders opened district play with an impressive win over Carrollton Newman Smith, 46-14.

Steve Baxter scored three touchdowns and gained 160 yards to lead the Raiders. Scott Cullins kicked two long field goals and Maurice Knight scored a touchdown. Troy Williams capped the offensive scoring with a fourth quarter touchdown.

The defense, despite a shaky second half start, played its usual dominating game and put some points of its own on the board. John Blue was outstanding as he tackled the ball carrier for a safety, picked up a blocked punt for a touchdown and kicked two extra points.



Brent smashes a quarterback.

"Mike, go straight home after the game."

Steve, thankful for another touchdown.

Raiders get revenge 35-7

The ROHO Express kept rolling down the tracks for its sixth straight win by beating the Denton Broncos 35-7.

The Raiders had gotten off to a slow start in the first half, scoring only on John Blue's outstanding run after a Maurice Knight pass.

Rider came out smoking in the second half as Steve Baxter scored two touchdowns. Aaron Brown added another on a Knight pass and John Duke finished the scoring on a one-yard run.

The Raiders shut down the touted Bronco offense as Ronnie Culver, Brian Forbes, Brent Scribner, John Blue, Eddie McAlvain, Jay Woodley, Billy Dollar, Greg Fields and Brad Gamble led the ROHO defense.

John, Brent, and Phillip smother a Bronco.

Rider drops tough one 9-13

The Raiders suffered a heartbreaking 13-9 loss to the Lewisville Farmers which killed their chances for a district title.

John Blue scored the Raiders only touchdown on a 6-yard pass from Maurice Knight. The ROHO defense played a good game except for two long scoring runs by Lewisville in the first quarter, which eventually decided the game.

The offense had several scoring opportunities in the second half, being inside the Farmers 15-yard line twice and inside the 10 twice.

Raiders smoke past Lions 41-0

Billy and Mike work to beat the Lions.

The Raiders took out their frustration of the Lewisville loss on Carrollton Turner 41-0.

The ROHO offense was led by Steve Baxter's four touchdowns and 93 yards rushing in the first half. Aaron Brown and Randy James added touchdowns in the second half.

The tough Raider defense limited the Lions to only 116 yards total offense in the entire ballgame.

Raiders "D" Dominates.

Raiders take sixth straight, 12-0

The Raiders defeated traditional rivals Wichita Falls High 12-0 to win the city title in the last game of the year.

The Raider defense starred once again as they limited the Coyotes to just 54 yards rushing. The defense also put the first points on the board as Ronnie Culver blocked a Coyote kick and Eddie McAlvain picked it up on the one and scored.

The Raiders scored their second touchdown after a Coyote fumble at the nine-yard line. Steve Baxter went over from the one. The offensive performance was hampered by the loss of All-District tackle Billy Dollar, who was injured late in the first half.

Bandits win city championship

Despite early season losses, the Junior Varsity football team came back to beat crosstown rivals, the WFHS Rowdies, for the city championship. Under the leadership of Coaches Jay Hill and Gary Guffey, the Bandits improved as the season progressed. The Bandit's performances in the big games shows promise for future Rider teams.

In August the Bobcat-Mustang rivalry was resolved as the two teams joined forces to become Rustlers. Under the guidance of coach Fred Pink and assistant coach Vaughn Coffman, the team worked long, hard hours and gained the experience needed to become future champions. They faced a tough season that ended with a disappointing record of 2-6-1.

Raiders Place Second in District

The varsity basketball team practiced many hours to face some of the toughest teams ever to be seen in high school basketball. The season ended in a 16-12 dribbling success.

Rider's young men showed great sportsmanship throughout every game they played. They placed second in the first half of district and second in the second half. They represented the school in an honorable way and continued the winning Raider Tradition.

Varsity Girls Begin Tradition

This was the first year for a Girls Varsity Basketball Team at Rider. Under the direction of Coach Frank Farnsworth, this team has shown much determination and endurance. The highlight of the year was the first district win against Carrollton Smith. This year's team consisted of the 1978 team plus some new members. These Varsity Girls began a tradition that will carry on throughout the years.

JV Shows Promise for Future

The Bandits success this year was a credit to their sportsmanship. They finished the season with a 20-5 record.

More important than victory was the sense of team spirit and pride they gained. The Bandits' performance this year is evidence of promise for the future.

Netters Defend District Title

Under the direction of Coach Jerry Franklin, the defending district champions worked throughout the year to develop and improve their games. Workouts consisted of warm-up, drills, practice matches and conditioning. The Raider netters had a busy fall schedule as they placed third in the Regional Team Tourney and 11th in state competition.

The team prepared for another successful spring season as they relied on the experience of returning lettermen Julie Bachman, Vicki Barham, Jeff Blacklock, Robert Driver, Philip Franklin and Cristi Gowan. Other lettermen were Chipper Hickey, Carol Massey, Jeff McCracken, Steve Tomlinson, Leslie Towry and Joanie Waltko.

They planned to participate in tournaments in Hurst, Dallas, Lubbock, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls in preparation for district play.

In the 1978 District Tournament Joanie Waltko won singles, Leslie Towry and Karen Young won doubles, Philip Franklin and Jeff McCracken were third in doubles and Carol Massey and Sherrie Schaefer placed third in doubles.

student life

What is Student Life? It is . . .
Nightlife: most weekends were filled with activities such as movies, dates, Saturday Night Live, or the ever-popular standby — dragging Kemp.
Makin' Money: many Rider students held part-time jobs to help them make car payments, buy clothes or to have extra pocket money.
Athletics: a variety of unusual sports were found to be favorite for many students. These ranged anywhere from sky-diving to flag-football.
Serious Side: going to church, studying in the library, poring over term themes and getting report cards are all part of the serious side of Rider students. This and much more is Student Life.

sports

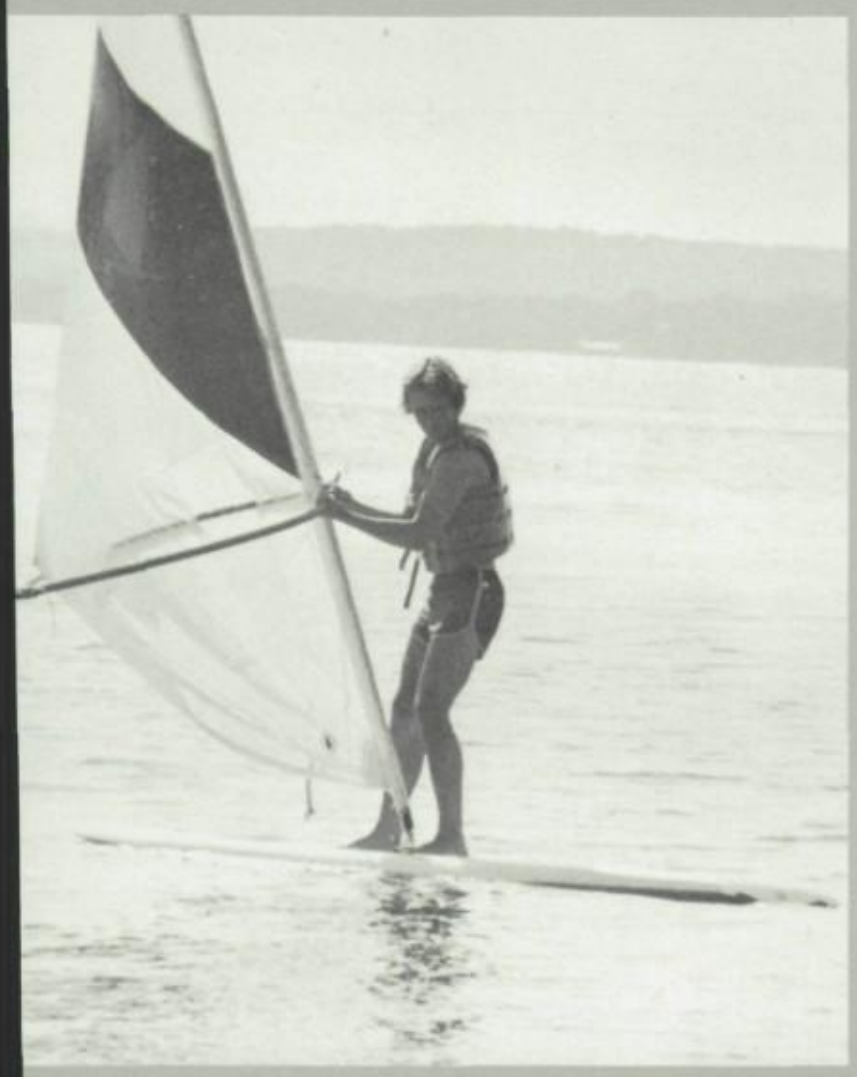
Diversified sports not offered in the school curriculum have captured the interest of many students. These people are a different breed of athlete who turn to more individualized sports, taking away from the spotlight of big name events to indulge in the pleasures of self-achievement. They excel in these sports because of their determination or out of the self-gratification brought by their individualized participation.

Ask any of the members of Rider's soccer team and they will tell you it is rapidly becoming a very popular sport. Games were played on Sunday afternoons at Jaycee Park and usually quite a few fans were there to cheer for the team. Although the team was not school sponsored this year, they have hopes that it will be in the near future.

Another sport that brought much excitement was Tri-Hi-Y football. Sponsored by the YWCA, the girls in the different clubs competed with each other. Many strong rivalries have developed between Rider and area clubs.

A wide variety of sports can be found in Wichita Falls from bowling to roller-skating and go-cart racing to karate.

Rider students have discovered that there are a multitude of sports in which they can participate, whether for pleasure or competition.



Sondra Carlton plays Tri-Hi-Y football.

Makin' Money

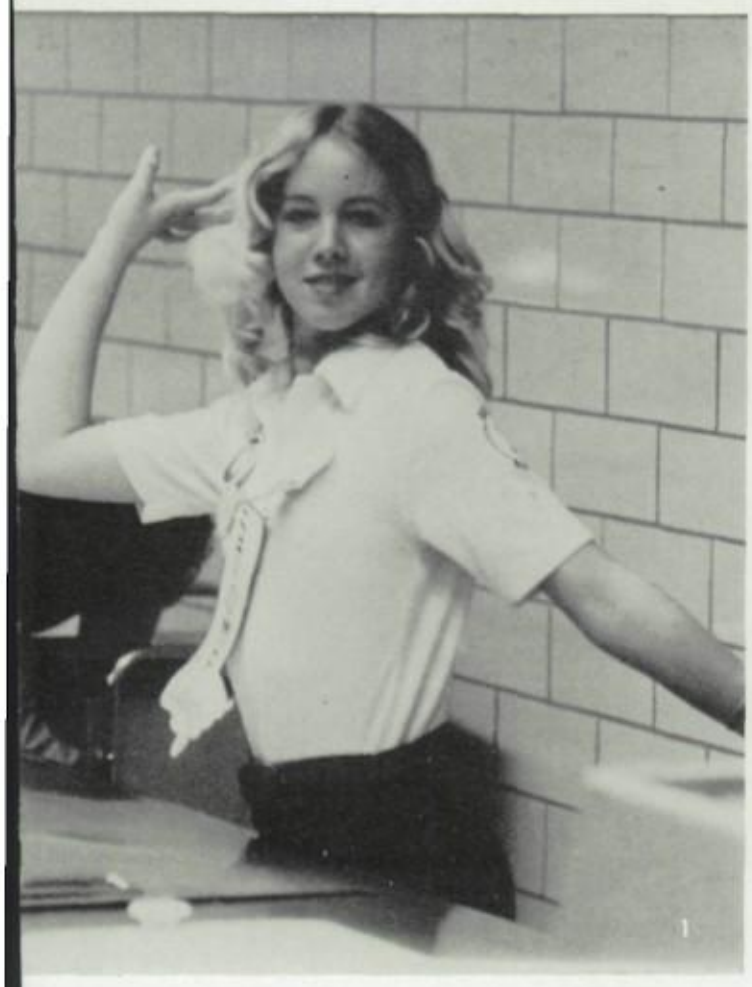
Along with homework, daily routine and extracurricular activities, a large number of Rider students still found time to hold down part-time jobs. Students fell into a seemingly inescapable trap. Money for recreation seemed to point toward getting a job, but once employed, the job took up all of their time. They now had the money they dreamed of, but no opportunity to spend it; they were caught in a revolving door.

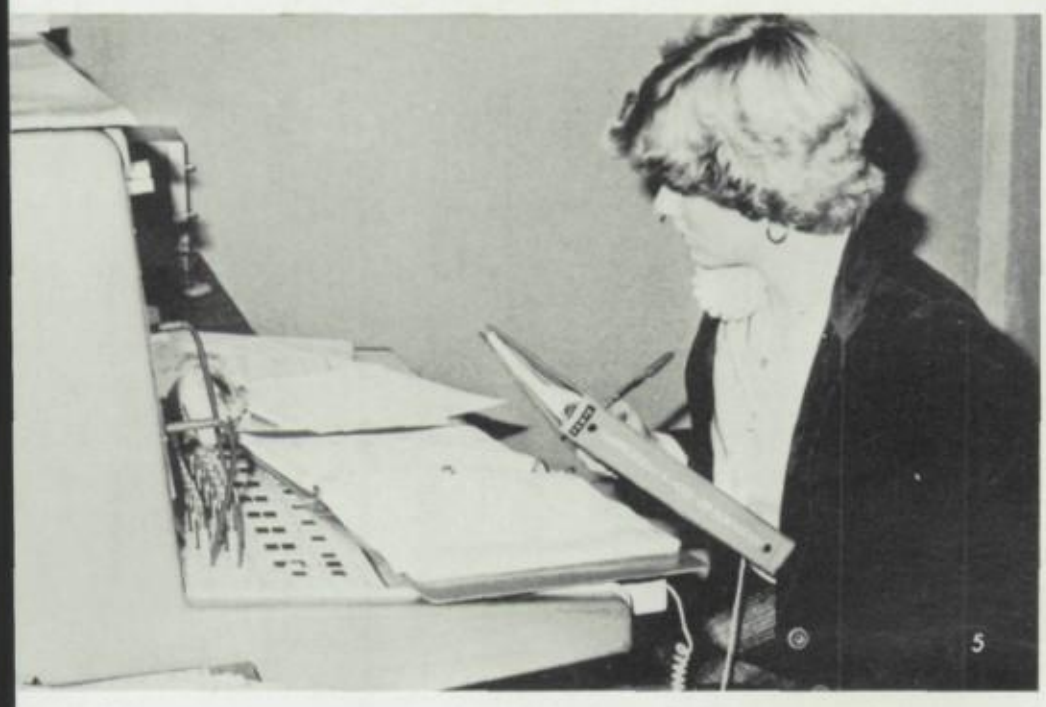
Part-time employment ranged widely in field, from jobs requiring special training and experience to fast food service and sacking groceries. Many students earned school credit by holding down jobs. Whether for money, a chance to get out of school, or realistic on-the-job training, they made use of work programs such as DE, VOE, ICT and HECE.

The inexperienced student looking for a job had many obstacles to clear. Many employers would not hire this kind of student, but how could they ever gain experience if no one would hire them? Another obstacle was finding transportation to the job.

With the cost of living continually on the rise, more and more students seemed to be seeking employment. Others gave freely of their time and talents doing volunteer work such as Pink Darlings.

1. A Rider student sacks groceries at a local supermarket. 2. Mark Hix works part-time at a veterinarian's. 3. Peggy Farmer volunteers many hours at Pink Darlings.





1. Debra Molinaro works at a Rangler fund-raising project. 2. Members of the band Purple Haze earn money by playing for clubs and parties. 3. De Stevens works at a small food and drug store. 4. David Womble assists a customer at a local variety store. 5. Sherrie Schaefer operates the switchboard at a local department store.

Disco Look "In" This Year

In the ever changing fashion world, many of the latest fashions and fads could be found in and around Rider. Students wore many stylish clothes centering on the unstable weather.

At the beginning of school, most girls wore bare sundresses, cool skirts and blouses and a variety of sandals . . . anything to help beat the heat.

As the weather grew cooler, sweaters took on a popularity like never before. Cowl neck sweaters, sweater vests, cardigans and pullovers were popular among girls, while guys wore bulky sweaters, crew neck sweaters and pullovers.

Many guys began to "dress" a little more for school and found they actually liked it. Corduroys, khakis, and dress jeans seemed to be their favorites. The girl's clothes were definitely more feminine this year as more and more wore dresses, flowing skirts and silky shirts.

Accessories played a large part in the total fashion scene. Clutches and big shoulder bags were popular items, as was jewelry. Gold chains in all lengths for both sexes were high on the list. Boots made a big impression on Rider students from girls with dresses to guys with jeans. They ranged greatly in variety and style . . . girls' boots were dressy and high heeled; for guys, cowboy boots were worn by the majority.

The biggest fad was "disco". Disco dresses, pants, shoes and belts were very popular at Rider. Satin pants in a variety of styles and colors teamed with satin shirts and disco belts was a great way to dress up. Many girls enjoyed wearing this type of clothing to school.

Despite all the new fashions, denim was everpresent because of its versatility. The easy care and good looks of denim has made it a permanent item at Rider. Straight leg jeans with spike heels was one of the most popular looks for girls. Most guys stuck with their Levis and western shirts or sweaters. All in all, jeans were found to be the most accepted mode of clothing for both girls and guys.

Overalls . . . always in style.

PERSONALITIES

Everyone has some special characteristic that is outstanding. This year the Annual Staff sponsored an election naming eighteen seniors who display distinctive traits. Whether these students were terribly talkative or didn't say a word, very flirtatious or just smiling, studying, or clowning around, they always had fun. The winners of the first personality awards are . . .

NIGHT LIFE

A school week seemed to last months while a weekend went by in what seemed hours. Often our lives revolved around finding something new and hopefully exciting to do. Concerts occasionally came to Wichita Falls, and many students journeyed to Dallas or Oklahoma City to hear big name entertainers. The disco music trend continued to grow and KNTO became more popular. Movies were a popular diversion even though it sometimes meant standing in a long line for one of the favorite shows. For those who were short on cash, Kemp was always there! One could cruise up and down and back around again all night long in search of that cute little person in the red pickup truck . . . sit at Taco and talk to all your friends . . . or grab a bite to eat at any of the many fast-food places.

Serious Side

In the midst of all the fun and exciting extracurricular activities, many students found time to set aside for serious things. Involvement in church activities was important to many people, both on Sunday mornings and nights. Reading whether for pleasure or for an assignment was another pastime of many. The majority of students had to spend some time at the library working on their term theme. Getting report cards was a serious time to most students. That was the time when they could see if all their hard work had paid off.

initiation

Tri-Hi-Y initiation was the day when freshmen and sophomore girls were dressed like Mickey Mouse, pumpkins, little girls, bathing suit models and an assortment of other unusual objects. Although the junior girls who were doing the initiation tried to keep it secret to surprise the receivers, word leaked out and most were prepared when the doorbells rang and a pillow case was forced over their heads.

Traditions of Involvement

The student body at Rider has traditionally been involved in many extracurricular activities. The student has always had a choice of organizations ranging from hard work for education's sake to hard work for the sake of fun and involvement . . . Cheerleaders unite to back the Bandits . . . Biology II works on bug collection . . . VOE practices working with office machines . . . Goalpost Decorators boost spirit with runthroughs . . . Tennis team raises money with car wash . . . Annual Staff Preserves Traditions

While many past Rider yearbooks have simply been books full of pictures, we can truly say that the '79 RAIDER reflects life at Rider High School during the '78-'79 school year. Through the use of our theme, Traditions, many traditions are pictured and explained. The mini-features, which replaced candids in the class sections, enable us to describe interesting activities and courses offered at Rider. Special activities such as Mum Day, pep rallies and ordering senior rings are pictured and described in the mini-features and the activities section. The extensive student life section uses words and pictures to depict the life of the average student, both at Rider and away from school. The use of copy on the division pages, opening and closing sections is also intended to give a more complete picture of our school.

I want to thank the RAIDER staff and our sponsor, Mrs. Johnson, for their many, many hours of hard work that made this book possible. As the weeks flew by and we realized that our years at Rider were almost over, it became even more important to create a book that was as special as our memories. Your love for Rider and your fellow students has produced a yearbook we can all keep to remember this very special time in our lives.

Love and Luck to you all,

Council Works for Students

Student Council represents an integral part of student government at Rider. The council consists of the presidents of each class and a specified number of students representing each grade level. Student Council had its first meeting before school was in session making plans for the first dance of the year with D.J. Mad Martin. The council hosted other dances, including the annual 50's Day Sock Hop. A new idea known as "Project Pride" was introduced at one meeting and the council voted to accept the responsibility of taking this idea and making it a working project. A committee was formed, designed to instill a feeling of school pride in students. Its main objective, however, was to reduce school vandalism by pinpointing problem areas around the building. Student Council worked hard to make student life more enjoyable, and to develop a sense of leadership and responsibility in students.

Goalpost Decorators are an enthusiastic group of girls who devote much of their time to promote spirit. During the football season, this requires a tremendous amount of time and money. The girls are responsible for decorating the main hall and the locker rooms at the stadium and school.

For every out-of-town game, the girls decorate the Raider bus and give the players sacks with cokes, candy, toys and other items inside. Special treats are often provided to the teams after a hard practice or before a big game.

The highlight of the year is Coyote Week, when many special activities are planned. The girls decorate the player's bedrooms and help with the special gym decoration, in addition to bringing the guys a surprise treat every day. The group also plans spirit-building activities for other varsity sports. This group is comprised of junior and senior girls and is sponsored by Miss Marsha Robinson and Mrs. Pat Williams.

Roundup Staff Is Into News

Since the first year Rider opened, the Roundup has been a part of students' lives and activities. The newspaper keeps students informed with features, editorials, and news stories explaining current events and informing students of future events.

The process of producing a newspaper takes much time and hard work by each member of the staff. Not only do they write stories, they sell ads, lay out pages, take and print pictures, and distribute the newspaper to Rider and area schools.

Advertisers work to perfect ads on page layouts.

A Cappella Strives for Unity

The a cappella choir consisted of juniors and seniors striving for the unity and quality musicianship that have been traditional of every Rider a cappella.

The members were selected last year by audition. They performed concerts throughout the year, most of them during the Christmas season. These included singing for the foreign students at Sheppard Air Force Base, the State Hospital, city banks, the school Christmas assembly and at Sikes Senter.

The choir participated in UIL contest, then concluded the year by singing at graduation.

The choir is under the direction of Mr. Donald Cowan who has been with this organization since the first year Rider opened. Through the efforts of him and each member, the a cappella choir upheld the tradition of being the "Greatest Choir Ever."

Girl's Choir has pzazz

The Girl's Choir discovered the meaning of work at the beginning of the year, which later showed in their performances. The choir, which had nearly doubled since last year, started off at a slow pace, but as the year progressed they picked up momentum. The girls learned the art of balancing tone, pitch, and volume control. The group participated in sectionals where they worked on trouble-spots and discussed various problems. The choir's hard work was evident as they performed at several concerts during the Christmas season, under the direction of Mr. Donald Cowan.

The Girl's Choir performed at the First Wichita National Bank, the Penny's Court at Sikes Senter, Burn's Fantasy of Lights, and for the student body in the Fieldhouse. They also went to U.I.L. competition in Vernon in the spring and performed in a Spring Concert.

The choir also had several parties to celebrate various occasions. At these parties they learned the meaning of friendship and caring about others. The Girl's Choir also proved that quality and quantity can be mixed together and still maintain the reputation as one of the best choirs at Rider.

Current events interest speakers

A student becomes eligible to join the National Forensic League after having accumulated 25 speaker points during tournament competition. Debate teams researched diligently preparing their cases, extemporaneous speakers were always "up" on current events, and orators researched and wrote speeches on topics which were important to them. Also included in NFL were Interpretive speakers. These include students who read prose and poetry selections and participate in Duet Acting and Pantomines. The Rider NFL Chapter first formed in 1967-68 under the direction of Mrs. Joan Jones, and the debate topic was Criminal Procedures. The 78-79 topic was centered on Energy; new resources, finding and producing them, financing them. The squad traveled to the Dallas-Ft. Worth area, and also attended tournaments hosted by Hirschi, Wichita Falls High School, Notre Dame, and Midwestern State University. The speech squad was designed to interest students in public speaking, and help them gain poise and self control before an audience.

Contest, Trip Highlight Year

U.I.L. contest and a skiing trip to New Mexico were the main events for the Rider orchestra. Members began the year with a breakfast at Sambo's. They performed their first concert for the member's parents. Later in November, the All-Region and All-State try-outs were conducted. In December, the group played its Christmas concert at Sikes Senter. The All-Region orchestra concert was performed in Abilene in January. March brought the two highlights of the year: U.I.L. contest and a skiing trip to New Mexico. The group concluded a very successful year by performing at graduation. The orchestra is under the direction of Mr. Richard Affannato.

Marching Band

The Pride of the Raiders Marching Band kept in step with the winning tradition at Rider through dedication and hard work. Two weeks before school began, band members worked hard learning a new style of marching and practicing that new style into a winning show. Their continuous practice proved worth all the hard work when they received a "Superior" rating at Marching Contest. The band thrilled the student body at pep rallies with numbers such as "Espagna," "Disco Inferno," and "Horse" — they are truly #1 Raider backers. "The Pride" climaxed their marching season at halftime at the Coyote game. They performed in total darkness, except for the small lights attached to the hats. The spectators watched in awe.

However, the end of football season did not mark the end of the band's hard work. The 152-piece band split into two smaller bands — Honors Band and Symphonic Band. These bands worked toward Spring Contest and their annual Spring Concert.

Throughout the entire year they repeatedly proved that they were the "Pride of the Raiders."

VICA is a new program at Rider

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, VICA, is a cooperative program between the employers of the community and the public schools. This program teaches students the importance of attitude towards a job along with instruction related to the job they choose. It also teaches job safety, safe working conditions, and employee-employer relations. To be eligible for this program, a student must be a junior or senior, at least 16 years old, and have approval of the Teacher-Coordinator. Electrician, photographer, painter, carpenter, and tailor are a few of the 35 career opportunities from which to choose.

This was the first year for VICA to be at Rider. It was introduced at Rider by Mrs. Saundrea Marvel, the vocational director. It was the fourth and youngest cooperative program. The course was taught by Mrs. Cheryl Pink in one of the outside classrooms. The program caught the interest of 27 students this year and lasted two class periods a day. VICA was also active at area district competition.

The Distributive Education program gives students an opportunity to apply their marketing skills, better preparing them for future occupations. The training began in D.E. Prelab where students learned the basic skills involved in distribution while working in the Raider Trader.

After completing Prelab, students receive on-the-job training through their employers.

Those in D.E. may participate in area, state and national competitions during the year in test marketing and distributing abilities. After completing this program, students are more experienced in the vocational field.

VOE Gains Office Experience

The Vocational Office Education program aided students who plan to take on occupations involving office work. The group, which was made up of seniors, received on-the-job training at offices where they learned skills such as typing, filing, data processing and the use of other office machines. This instruction of clerical skills prepared the seniors for a future in the area of office vocation.

Tech School Trains

High school students participating in Tech School activities gained experience and learned skills for the career of their choice.

Those attending Harrell Center chose from carpentry, clothing merchandising, home furnishing and electrical trades.

One of the projects of the carpentry class was building portable classrooms for various elementary schools. Clothing merchandising classes worked with high-speed sewing machines like those used in several factories. Those who worked with Home Furnishing participated in projects such as redecorating a mobile home for resale. Students interested in electrical trades learned basic skills common to many of the electricity-electronics fields.

Electrical trades were also offered at Carrigan Center. Other courses offered included Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration in which students gained practical experience in servicing commercial and domestic heating units. Students interested in auto paint and body repair learned skills in an auto body repair class. Auto mechanics trained students in maintenance and repair of vehicles with combustion engines. Also a Diesel mechanics class was offered.

Cosmetology trained students interested in becoming beauticians. Arthographic projection, pictorial drawing and architectural drawing were learned in Drafting. Students gained experience with machine tools in Machine Shop.

A two-year vocational office education class began with pre-lab which trained students in office occupations. This training was used by the second-year students in on-the-job training. The Health Care Program also began with a pre-lab which led to on-the-job training. This program was known as Health Occupations Cooperative. One other course offered was Welding, which trained in all phases of electric arc and oxyacetylene welding, along with more advanced techniques.

Tech School was designed to develop students' skills in preparation for future careers.

This 61-member drill team included four managers, five officers, and a 52-girl dance line.

The Ranglers performed at Rider football games, pep rallies, basketball games and the Pioneer Bowl. They also marched in several parades, including the Armed Forces Parade, Oil Bowl Parade and the Mexican Day Parade.

In preparation for these performances, the Ranglers attended several workshops. The routines were learned at these workshops. The other routines were choreographed by the officers.

As well as building their size and talent, these girls helped to build school spirit. They had several signmaking parties and received the spirit banner at the Lubbock-Monterey pep rally.

A first for 1978 was the Coyote Cookout sponsored by the Ranglers. A yell that became familiar this year was, "We are brilliant, we're star-spanglers, we are the S.H. Rider Ranglers". The Ranglers were "star-spanglers" and they were certainly brilliant.

Photography Club Focuses on Cameras

The Photography Club met at the home of Mrs. Helen Johnson. They began meeting in March on the second and fourth Thursdays and met every month until the end of the year. The students involved in this club were interested in learning the finer skills of photography.

The club learned the basic procedures of setting up the camera for the best possible pictures. They also learned how to operate and maintain a camera. The club had access to a darkroom where they learned the procedures of developing film and printing pictures.

Number Sense probes math questions

Members of Number Sense met twice weekly to improve their accuracy and speed in the solving of mathematical questions to prepare for UIL competition. This competition tested students' ability to work problems quickly and accurately without the aid of calculators or scratch paper. Number Sense and the math department sponsored a UIL practice meet at Rider early in February.

Latin Club Studies Early Cultures

Under the new sponsorship of Mr. Alfred Anderson, the Latin Club started off their year with a breakfast in October. In the early months of winter the Latin Club sponsored a party for the Latin students all over the city. A banquet was given in March for Latin I and II students. The highlight of the year was in April when the club celebrated the beginning of Spring with a party honoring Floralia, Goddess of the Spring.

Club Spreads Pan-Americanism

The Spanish Club, also known as Los Companeros, had another successful year under the direction of Mrs. Francine Martin. Among the activities the club sponsored were a car wash, selling Raider stickers, conducting bake sales, collecting money for Unicef on Halloween, and selling carnations on Valentine's Day. Part of the money was used for the PASF convention in San Antonio. Another portion of the money was used for "Pesos for Braces" a project designed to provide underprivileged children in Mexico with braces.

Mu Alpha Theta offers help

Mu Alpha Theta is a nationally organized honorary high school mathematics club for third-year college preparatory math students maintaining at least a 3.0 grade average. The club met once weekly to discuss contest oriented problems to prepare for convention, and once a month they had a speaker from one of the various math fields. Select members attended the state-wide convention in late February in San Antonio. This club also sponsored activities for the enrichment of the entire student body such as their weekly math contests and the student tutor program.

JROTC Develops Leaders

Army JROTC is a program designed to teach students leadership, respect, self-discipline, responsibility, self-reliance, good citizenship, responsiveness to constituted authority, and effective written and oral communication.

Enrollment in the program does not obligate one for any future military service. The first-year students learn hygiene and first-aid, map-reading, weapons, and their safety, marksmanship, leadership development and drills. They also received an introduction to JROTC and the Army.

Second-year students study these areas at a higher level, and some become involved in drill teams and other special teams. The third and fourth-year students were leaders of the teams, and many were involved in extracurricular activities, including the drill teams, rifle teams, ranger team and color guard. Other activities the JROTC participated in were monthly trips to Ft. Sill and a city-wide picnic.

Ag. Students Have Variety of Learning

Where in Rider is Roundup Week every week? It is in the agriculture department.

One hundred thirty-one students are involved in the agriculture department this year, 20 of which are girls. Students are taught parliamentary procedure, farm and radio skills and the qualities of good leadership.

Students involved in this department are some of the busiest around. Many are raising animals as projects. These animals are shown in stock shows. The major stock shows attended were Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, the Houston Show, Wichita District Beef Show and the Wichita County Livestock Show.

The show animals are sheltered at the school farm. Last July the farm received a new steer facility. FFA also sold apples, oranges, grapefruit and smoked turkeys. Members of FFA learned about the production of livestock, and train for leadership teams which compete in district and national levels.

The Industrial Arts Club, sponsored by Mr. Glen Woods, traveled to Austin for a state officer's meeting this year, where Sam Kenshalo represented Wichita Falls as president-elect and took office in May. They also traveled to Waco for a state convention and competition and as far away as Memphis, Tenn. to a national convention.

The Club was involved in communitive services. The repaired toys for Christmas and built toy trucks to sell and donate to the Salvation Army. Their major project was a float they made for the Pioneer Bowl. This year's float was a Salute to the NCAA. Past floats have been: Christmas Around the World with Walt Disney which was their first float; Christmas with Snoopy; Betsy Ross; Toys, Toys, and More Toys; and a Toy Float. The Industrial Arts Club has won four out of five contests with their floats.

Through Our Victories We Will Shine

Seniors always carried an air of superiority, setting them apart from the rest.

Underclassmen looked up to them for advice and guidance. Fashion trends, funny expressions, right places to go and be seen . . . these were dictated by the seniors.

Senior guys had a need to feel "macho," whether dominating the Student Center at lunch or dipping snuff.

Senior girls came in two types: those looking like Seventeen models and those who really did not care.

All seniors shared two common goals. The first big one was the thrill of turning 18, after the time spent making fake I.D.'s or looking for someone over 18 who looked like you.

The second and most important goal seniors shared was . . . GRADUATION.

This year like every other year, an epidemic spread through senior classes, commonly known as "Senioritis." Seniors became suddenly ill on Monday mornings and Friday afternoons, and doctor's appointments were many. Students mysteriously ended up at the lake instead of the doctor's.

Seniors realized fun and games were over and many major decisions had to be made. Last goodbyes were said and promises to keep in touch were made.

After four short, but unforgettable years, we can truly say that the Senior Class of '79 shone not only through victories, but through sportsmanship in defeat as well.

Senior class officers are: seated: Andrea Borders, vice president, Hal Harbor, president, back row- Laurie Stroh, secretary; Sarah Taylor, reporter; Linda Marks, treasurer.

ALPHA--THE BEGINNING

With anticipation and fright, we began our years at Rider. As we became familiar with our surroundings, we reached out and discovered new experiences. Together we journeyed through the years, sharing our heartaches and laughter, growing toward maturity. Each of us contributed to Rider in some way, and each received much in return. We made friends we will keep forever and friends we may never see again.

REMEMBER AS FRESHMEN

Those first few days, so frightening, so exciting...singing the Alma Mater and Fight Song at orientation, receiving our class yell at the first pep rally...the Student Center filled with seniors...getting lost...buying elevator tickets...the excitement of our first Roundup Week...beating the Coyotes 28-7...the freshman-sophomore dance...ending the Barwise-McNiel rivalry and becoming Raiders.

REMEMBER AS SOPHOMORES

Finally getting our drivers licenses...Tri-Hi-Y initiation...becoming a part of Rider...a new principal...being able to laugh at the freshmen...school closed a week because of a gas curtailment...a bi-district basketball team...our JV Football Team won an unprecedented fifth straight RRVC Championship...50's day...another victory over the Coyotes, 14-7.

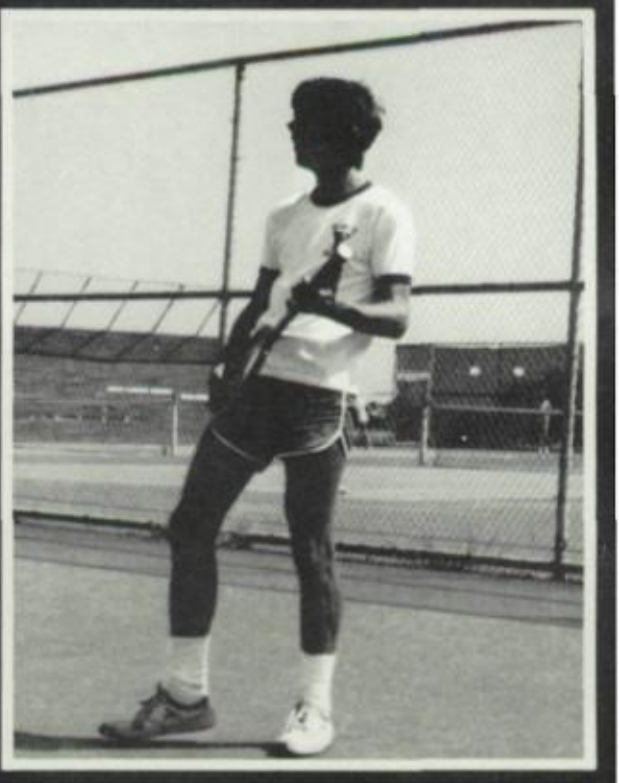
REMEMBER AS JUNIORS

Finally upperclassmen...term themes...receiving our class rings...our class breakfast...a victorious climax to Coyote Week, 14-13...skipping out to lunch...PSAT test...a successful class dance...cheerleader tryouts...being accepted to Raider Crew and Goalpost...becoming officers and leaders in clubs...a bigger annual...saying goodbye to friends graduating...those last few days when we were 'the seniors.'

REMEMBER AS SENIORS

Our year...upholding old traditions and beginning new ones...pictures during the summer...nominating Mr. and Miss Raider from our class...senior pins...ACT and SAT tests...our last and best Coyote Week...the senior play...the gold and white game--the last...ordering announcements, caps and gowns...graduation parties...Senior Banquet and Senior Night...reading of the Will and Phrophecy...scared of the future and pretending not to be...graduation...saying goodbye to friends and facing the future...Through our Victories We Will Shine, Senior Class of '79.

As our years at Rider draw to a close, we realize that the experience and maturity gained during our high school years will help us face life's many challenges. We will always cherish memories of our high school days. We leave as we came to Rider, excited, yet afraid of what the future will bring. The time has come to say goodbye. IT IS THE END--THE OMEGA.



Friends and Memories Cherished Greatly

After waiting two long years we were finally upperclassmen. Remember all the times feeling inferior to the upperclassmen, looking up to them and thinking, "Someday that will be me." Coyote Week came and all the fun we had getting to go to our first class breakfast; all the girls showing off their mums and the boys looking proud of themselves for giving them. Then came the day of ordering senior rings, looking at all the different styles and colors anticipating what ours would look like. The days seemed to get longer waiting for the day when one of the announcements would say senior rings are in. The year brought so many things; applying for Raider Crew, Goal Post and cheerleader try-outs. The end of school came fast, and it was sad to see all of the seniors leave but, the sadness soon went away when we remembered that we were now the Seniors of 1980.

Report Cards

Report Card Day is dreaded by many students. Fears of failing or passing mount as the student waits in line for his card.

Some students read the cards eagerly, while others quickly slip the card into their books and leave. Feelings of relief or disappointment surface as comments such as "She passed me!!" or "I can't believe she gave me a C" can be heard.

All day long, some students dread going home because they know their parents will not approve of their grades. Others are proud to show their parents the results of their hard work.

Food Drive

The Key Club sponsored a special Christmas food drive to help needy families in the community. Students brought food items to school, and club members collected $535 from student contributions and the selling of Christmas carols. A Rider teacher and her family also contributed $200 to the project.

Club members purchased more food with the money, filling over 30 shopping baskets at a local supermarket. The food was then distributed to 28 needy families.

"The project was an effort of the entire student body and faculty. It would not have been successful if they hadn't cared enough to help," stated Lee Hill, club president. "It was a lot of work, but the club members were really enthusiastic, and we are glad we could help those less fortunate than ourselves," he added.

Circle K from MSU, DECA, the Raider Crew and more than 19 other clubs at Rider also helped with the project, which received recognition from local newspapers, television and radio stations.

Senior Rings

Juniors received their first hint of the fun of being a senior when they ordered senior rings in September. Bob Shyrock, representing the Herf-Jones Company, explained the many styles available at a junior assembly, and students ordered rings several days later. A new feature offered this year was a symbol under the stone, representing a special interest.

Although some students ordered rings from local jewelry stores, about 70 per cent of the class purchased rings at school, according to Mrs. Jackye Plummer, dean of students. She also noted that more students had diamonds put in their rings this year, and a great many more Ultrium rings were sold, due to the rising cost of gold.

Chemistry

From freezing paradichloro benzene to boiling water, chemistry was one of the favorite lab classes at Rider. Through a year of experiments, P.O.D.'s (problem of the day) and the dreaded MAJOR TEST, "Mrs. I." made sure her students learned the basics of chemistry.

This year, for the first time, two types of chemistry courses were offered. Masterwork Chemistry, designed for students planning further study of science, made a more in-depth study. The regular classes were taught so the average student could understand.

AT LEFT: Ed Bousquet and Dana Lewis observe the fascinating process of boiling water.

Biology II

Students could be seen stalking the campus with butterfly nets and jars full of "bugs" as Biology II students began the year by making insect collections. They were required to have 100 different families and 12 different orders of insects. Then the class spent several months dissecting sharks and studying the circulatory system, digestive system and other systems.

The class also wrote research papers on the different theories of evolution and studied the effect of hormones on the growth of baby chicks.

They planned a paleontological weekend field trip to the Panhandle to dig for fossils, a Science Field Day at MSU and a four-day field trip to Port Aransas to collect invertebrate specimen.

Class Pictures

Wearing a coat and tie was a new experience for many junior guys when they had their class pictures taken Oct. 5. The annual staff coordinated the picture taking, which lasted three days. After students' pictures were taken by a local photographer, RAIDER staff members were on hand to issue I.D. cards to freshmen and new students, free of charge. The I.D. system was started last year in an effort to provide a way to identify people as Rider students. Each class is issued a different colored card with the student's picture on it.

Snowstorm

Snow and ice covered the ground for the first two weeks of 1979 making streets very slippery. School was called off one day and started at 9:30 a.m. on several other days.

Because the lines in the parking lots were covered with ice, students invented their own parking spaces, often blocking other cars in.

Jan. 10, four inches of snow blanketed the city, creating many beautiful scenes such as the one in our courtyard. Many students enjoyed winter activities such as sledding and snowball fighting.

Success and Glory Shall be Done

Sophomore means beginning to feel a part of Rider and knowing what it's like to be a true Raider. Remember ourselves as freshmen? We were scared and unsure of ourselves. Now we are anticipating being upperclassmen. One memorable moment as a sophomore was signing up for Driver's Education. It was finally time to get a driver's license. Girl's, remember the embarrassing moments of the Tri-Hi-Y initiation? Will we ever forget our sophomore year? It was full of excitement and anticipation. It is now time to become upperclassmen.

Lunchroom

These girls made many important decisions this past year, as did many other starving students. As they departed from their fourth period classrooms, they had to decide where to eat. Should they play it safe and eat in the lunchroom or take potluck at the vending machines? Should they risk detention and leave the school for their meal? Upon entering the lunchroom they had to decide in which line to stand. Should they take the deceivingly short, but slow-moving line or should they take the lengthy, but speedy express line? Once in line the choice of eating a basic 65 cent well-balanced meal or taking the risky a la carte route had to be made. The last decision was the hardest of all. Where would they sit? Once this hurdle was passed they settled down for a peaceful meal.

Ag Classes

Agriculture students worked in two different environments. They were required to have a project on the school farm. These projects took six months. They were also on judging teams which judged anything from livestock to pasture. The second environment was the classroom. Students learned about animal, plant, and soil sciences, and agricultural economics.

Most importantly they practiced agricultural leadership, parliamentary skills and community awareness. Sophomore Ag. student, John Cawthon, is pictured to the left.

Shop Classes

Contrary to popular belief, Shop is not a class for people with a buying fetish; neither is it a class for people wanting to acquire a buying fetish. It is not a class limited to boys. Shop students learned all sorts of home repair skills. They learned about the upkeep of a house, built scale models and worked with electricity. Among other things, they refinished furniture, worked with plumbing, studied guttering and drew house-plans. Boys and girls alike enjoyed learning these skills.

Raider Trader

The Raider Trader, located in the student center, sells everything from pens, pencils and paper for absent-minded students to all kinds of candy for students with a sweet tooth. At times they sell football tickets, basketball tickets, and even Raider decals. The Raider Trader is in business from 7:30 a.m. through homeroom and during fourth period. The workers include DECA prelab participants such as Scott Bucher.

Gym Classes

"I left my clothes at home."
"Somebody stole my shoes."
"I stubbed my toes in the locker room."

Are these pitiful wails familiar? They were to the gym instructors this past year. They heard the same excuses time after time, period after period, day after day.

But what did these creative physical education students do when they were not composing excuses? They learned everything from archery, volleyball and badminton to softball, basketball, tumbling and football. Each of these activities was taught in a concentrated effort to keep Rider's student body physically fit. Left: John Arnold and Ricky Shelby.

Homemaking

A guy in a homemaking class? Yes, several were enrolled this year. Some preferred to call it "bachelor living", but it was homemaking.

Whether male or female, each homemaking student learned many things important to home and family living. During one quarter students worked with clothing and textiles, and housing and home furnishings.

Another quarter concentrated on food and nutrition, consumer education and home management.

Third quarter finished off the year with home and family living and child development. This experience in domestic arts will help the homemaking students in their future life.

Rider Raiders Proud and True

After years of anticipation and waiting, we finally became high school students. Our freshman class was not exactly upperclassmen, but we were with them through pep rallies, games, signmaking parties and dances. We still remember the first few days: nervous butterflies flying through our stomachs, all the elevator tickets the seniors tried to sell us, receiving our first high school class schedule cards and walking into a class full of seniors in E204 and finding out we were supposed to be in F204.

Then after weeks of suffering through Freshman jokes, we finally became established in the school. We ordered our first Rider Raider annuals, we went to our first ROHO vs. Coyote pep rally. The girls received their first high school mums while the boys who gave them stood by, smiling sheepishly. At the end of the year we looked back on our year of anguish, and though we were only lower-class Freshmen, we knew we were a special class.

Art Class

Art was a popular class with many freshmen because a minimal amount of study and homework was involved, if any at all. Pop-art, sculpture, painting, and macrame were all part of their class. The relaxed atmosphere was one of the benefits freshmen probably considered when they scheduled this elective class. Pictured are Tim Bartram and Phillip Sughrue working on mobiles.

Freshman Class Officer Elections

One of the many new activities the Frosh did at the beginning of the year was electing class officers. They were given three days to file for their desired office and then spent a week campaigning. The halls were filled with posters made by the candidates, and students wore multi-color buttons and pins displaying their favorite choice for office. Speeches were made over the P.A. system and toward the end of the campaign, all the freshmen assembled in the auditorium. Nervously, each candidate introduced himself and made a short speech, telling why he should be elected. Finally, it was time to vote. With such a large number of candidates, many run-offs determined the winners. Even those defeated were winners, though, because they showed an interest and enthusiasm for their class. Michele Sparks gives her campaign speech at left.

Door Decorations

Every year during Roundup Week, all homerooms are invited to enter the door decorations contest. The doors are usually transformed into corrals, saloons, graveyards and such, and at the end of the week, prizes are awarded to winners in each of the different categories. This year a few doors could be found with decorations, but the majority were left unadorned. The fact that it was an open week, one without a football game, may have contributed to the problem, or was it the lack of school spirit? One freshman class decorated its door in a different manner, as pictured at left.

English Panels

Mrs. Jeter's Freshman Masterwork English class is a little out of the ordinary. They have a different way of studying novels. The class was divided into panels, and each group presented its version of "To Kill a Mockingbird." The students dressed as they imagined life to be in the 1930's at Maycomb, Ala., the setting of the story. At right are Dolores Jansen, Tammy Hegg, Leslie Wyandt, as the mother, Calpurnia, Lisa Dupriest and Jennifer Andruczk as Atticus, the father.

Friendship

Freshmen had many new experiences, met many new people with different ideas and became friends with those people. Most of the Rider freshmen came from Barwise or McNiel, two rival Jr. high schools. At first it was difficult to mingle with these new classmates, but they soon realized they were not Bobcats and Mustangs anymore, but Raiders. At left are Kristi Defoor and Royce Kimoto.

Frosh in Band

After the seniors initiated the new freshmen into the Pride of the Raiders Band, they began a year they would remember for many years to come. The final selection of the students who would be in the band was made in April and May after Mr. Thompson watched them in 8th grade band. Two weeks before school started, the new freshman band members assembled with other band members while the officers told what would be expected of them. They became part of a squad and learned how to march "Rider" style. As the two weeks of pre-school practice drew to a close, the band members planned a little something special for the freshmen. The seniors kidnapped all the frosh and brought them to a band party. They sat on the floor where everyone could observe and ridicule them, all in fun, of course. After all the special treatment they received, it was quite a memorable year. At left is Eric Crews.

Administration Works for Students

Our successful year was made possible by an efficient administration system consisting of the superintendents, directors and the school board. Dr. Lee R. Williamson, in his fourth year as superintendent, has proved himself capable and dedicated with the needs of students always uppermost in his mind. Under his leadership, the assistant superintendents and directors have dealt with matters including instruction, athletics and food services. The school board also maintains community relations and provides qualified personnel for the Wichita Falls Independent School District.

Leaders inspire students

Principal, Mr. Newman Young can be found either in the halls mingling with students or in his office attending to school matters. Even though he is kept busy with official business, he still finds time to attend such activities as pep rallies, gym decorations, football games and basketball games.

Playing supporting roles to Mr. Young are the vice principals whose primary duties are to work with and listen to students on a one-to-one basis. Through these men, Rider has an excellent example of true Raider pride.

Mr. Bacon handles such programs as school insurance, free lunches and textbooks. Mrs. Johnson is in charge of disciplining girls. She also sends absentee referrals to the Central Office. Coordinating the school calendar and activities is Mrs. Plummer. She guides the student body with the help of the other deans.

School Services Benefit Students

The assistance of the vending machine ladies, janitors and cafeteria ladies along with the secretaries, clerks, nurses, counselors and librarians, keeps our school running smoothly. Their jobs are to provide for the wellbeing of students. Without these people, we would not have snacks, we would walk through trashy halls, go without meals, not be enrolled in school, be sick, and be without books.

"I'll give you two to one on the potato chips."

"That chicken was soaked in Crisco and it's still crispy!"

Traditions of Spirit

Getting involved at Rider was easy with such a wide range of activities from which to choose. From Roundup Week to Fifties Day, sign-making parties to gym decorations and pep-rallies to football games, every student was included. During Roundup Week, western attire was the "in" look, doors were transformed into saloons, outhouses and such, and the seniors planned and participated in the traditional Roundup assembly. The main reason these activities were such a success was because we all "got it together" and became wholeheartedly involved.

Activities

Roundup Week Celebrated

Roundup Week, a distinctive tradition at Rider was celebrated Oct. 9-13. It is a significant week because it unifies the entire student body. Loyalty and school pride are shown by observing the western style of clothing, participating in assembly and dance, and by decorating homeroom doors.

This year there was an added attraction during the lunch hour, when several students carried on a mock gun fight. Western wear was prominant and the week was a great success.

Homerooms with winning doors were: Mrs. Jones, exemplifying school spirit; Mr. Atkins and Mrs. Ehlert, most creativity; Mrs. Marion, best western theme; the top winner was Miss Robinson, with Mrs. Hill, first runner-up and Mr. Cowan, second runner-up.

Roundup week concluded with the Roundup dance, where Andrea Borders and Steve Baxter were crowned Mr. and Miss Raider.

Roundup Assembly

The annual Rider Roundup assembly was October 11 in the field house. The skit was a take off on the Beverly Hillbillies. Members of the cast include in respective parts: Sally Gary, Granny; Lee Hill, Mr. Drisedale; Carolyn Jones, Jane Hathaway; Thomas Little, Jethro; Brenice Menzies, Elli May; Kevin Nordman, Jed Clampitt; Brad Prickett, Jethrine; Christi Rogers, Mrs. Drisedale, and Amy Yeager, Aunt Pearl. The Roundup Singers sang the traditional "Y'all Come" and additional music for the skit. Mr. and Mrs. Raider nominees were presented to the student body portraying well-known television characters.

The nominees for Miss Raider in the respective parts were: Andrea Borders, Edith Bunker; Leigh Carnes,

Coyote Week filled with activities

The week of the Rider-Coyote game is filled with many traditional activities. The festivities began on the Sunday before the game when students covered every available hall wall and locker with streamers and signs. Wednesday afternoon the Goalpost Decorators decorated each football player's bedroom. Thursday night the Coyote Cookout, a chicken dinner sponsored by the Ranglers, was followed by gym decorations and the Happening, one of Rider's most beautiful traditions. After the gym was decorated, students sat in the bleachers and all of the lights were turned off. The cheerleaders stood by the entrance to the gym holding lighted candles as the football team entered and formed a circle around the Raider. Mr. Donald Cowan, Mr. Newman Young and Billy Gahagen, a former Rider football player, gave pep talks to the team and the cheerleaders led several yells as the students shone flashlights on the gym floor. A cappella sang "Beautiful Savior" and the "Alma Mater" to end the Happening on a beautiful note. The Raider Crew and the Goalpost Decorators stayed at school until after midnight hanging streamers and signs from the rafters in the gym.

The game day began with a senior breakfast and a junior breakfast. On the morning announcements, Steve Baxter, student council president, declared Mum Day. Students tried to remain "mum" or silent, until the pep ralley and many girls also wore mums.

Coyote Week pep rally is special

Students, parents, and alumni filed into the gym and maintained complete silence as the football team entered. Then Mr. Cowan rang the bell which traditionally begins the pep ralley and the students cheered as the cheerleaders broke out of a box in the center of the gym. The Ranglers performed as the football team took its place. Highlighting the pep rally were the traditional good-luck telegrams, float parade and teacher's skit.

Mr. Poney Thompson and Mrs. Florence Rowe won the ugly teacher contest and received a trophy and a pie in the face. Former Raider Joe Petty and his band entertained the students. Television cameras were on hand to film segments of the pep rally and captains talk for the evening news. Past and present a cappella members united to sing the Alma Mater and to end the special pep rally. Many seniors, realizing that it was their last pep rally could be seen crying as they left the gym.

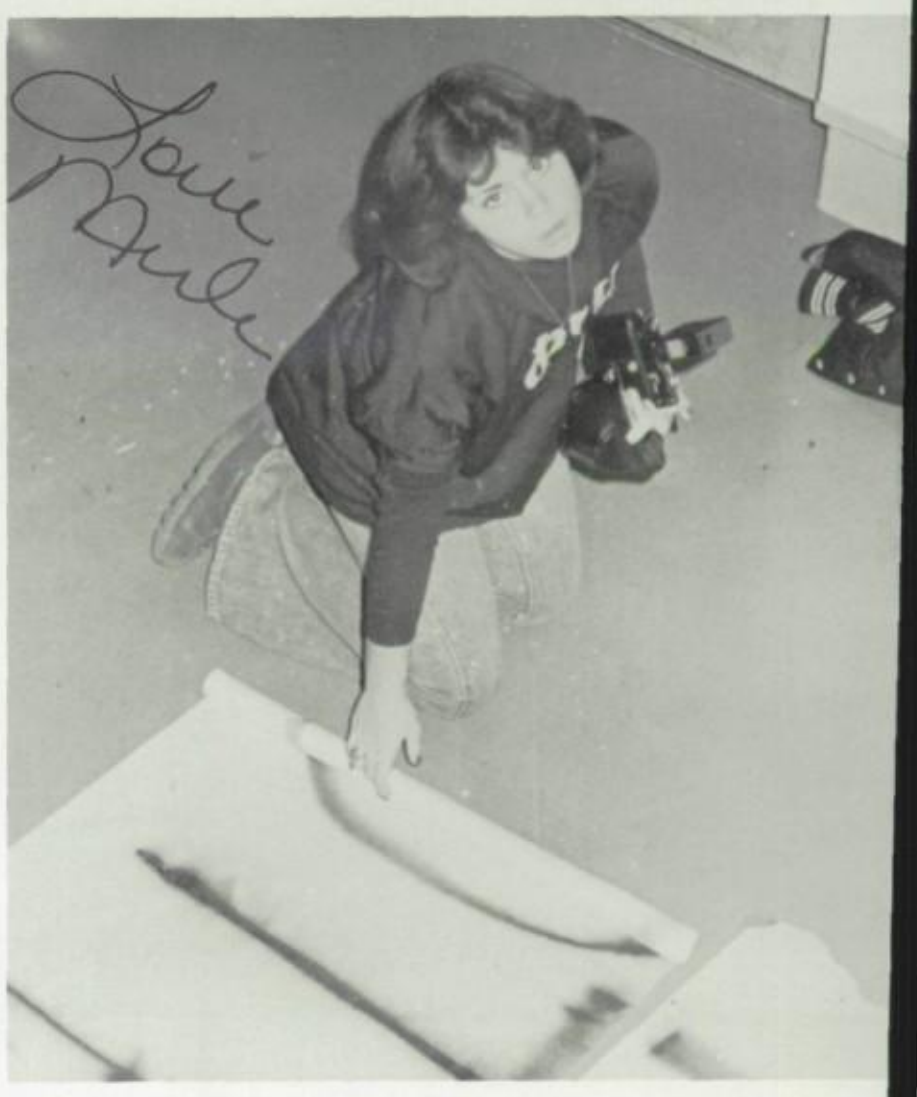
Sign Parties, Gym Decorations Prove Enjoyable

Each class had a signmaking party every week and was responsible for decorating its side of the gym and a specific hall at school.

Students gathered in the gym the night before each football game to decorate for the pep rally. Each class covered its side with crepe paper and signs to create a spirited atmosphere for the pep rally. When the decorations were complete, students formed a circle around the Raider on the gym floor and the cheerleaders led chants and cheers. Then everyone joined hands to conclude gym decorations by singing the alma mater.



Each week at the pep rally a spirit stick was presented to two students that the cheerleaders thought showed the most spirit throughout the week. Recipients of the stick were as follows:

Carrie Cagle
Dana Conner
Mary Ellen Craig
Shara Fulmer
Denise Haywood

One of a cappella's many traditions is the singing of "Beautiful Savior." They sing the song every Friday in class and at the end of each concert. 1. Students practice many long hours so the Pride of the Raiders marching band can represent Rider well. 2. Seniors caught in the act. 3. Debra Molinaro poses with her homeroom's fourth place float from the Coyote pep rally. 4. Many students showed their spirit by wearing socks and rolled up jeans on one game day. 5. Many girls wore several mums on Mum Day. 6. Ronnie Culver and Jay Woodley receive their victory apples at THE pep rally. 7. Hal knows who is number one. 8. Seniors show spirit at a pep rally.

1. Sponsored by HECE, Santa Claus was available in the Student Center so students could pose for pictures. 2. Mike Warren pays the balance on his senior ring. 3. Rangler officers lead the drill team. 4. Ed Bousquet and Karen Osborne enjoy the annual junior breakfast on Mum Day. 5. Debbie Coote wears one of the sweaters the annual staff sold. 6. The telephones in the Student Center are convenient for students who left their gym clothes or homework at home. 7. Catholic Daughters of the Americas donated a volume of "Our Catholic Heritage in Texas" to Rider and other area schools. 8. Freshmen prepare to have their class pictures taken. 9. This year has really been fun. You've frightened up the past 5 years for me you may not know it, or admit it, you have a lot to do with it, including me, wrapped around your finger. You're a really nice guy. You're good looking too. I'm finding a person like that who isn't stuck up is rare. I'm glad I had the times with you that I did, I only wish I had it all you wish for in a person. I'm sorry about all the things I've done that you should have to deserve it. I hope you find it someday. I'm sorry but like you told me once, life that's not the way it works. You can always get back together. I still think of you and hope you find it to you this year but you try. Maybe someday, when the circumstances, it has to be. You can always find wrightress in

Todd,
It's been a lot of fun in Physical Science this year. You're a great guy and I like ya a lot. Have a great summer and stay out of trouble.

Love,
Melanie

Todd,
I really don't know you very well but I'm sure you're a nice person. Have a great summer and stay out of trouble.

Love ya,
Val

Todd,
It's really been fun being in band with you. Thanks to you it wasn't so bearable.
Thanks and Good Luck,
Danielle Thayer

Todd,
You're a really nice person! Driver's ed was fun! I finally got my license and boy, am I glad D.E. is over! Writing all those questions almost killed me! Ha Ha!
Good luck always!
Bye,

Todd,
I'm really glad
I met you this year
& I've really enjoyed working with you.
You made the gloomy days bright for everybody! Keep in touch this summer
& if ever you have to do anyone else's
work (and you know who I'm talking about) keep a smile on your face & the words under your breath! Stay cute
& sweet & God Bless you always!

Love ya
Stephanie

P.S. Call me sometime!

Todd, I know we didn't get a chance to become friends this year, but I hope we can this summer, & I'll see you in Sr. year.

We will party more this summer and maybe get layed (if were lucky)

Todd,

I only meet you last year but we didn't do to much because we didn't have a car or any way to get arround. But this year we had a lot of good times like at the football game when you got sike at Linda's birthday party and a lot of other things. I still have your foot print on the sellin of my car and I will never forgit you hanging out the window.

Your mom is reall nice and your brother is a dusta. (If he wound have shot you I wount have never forgiven him) your sisters are two of the bigist brates I ever new. (besides my battle brothers) your father reall don't wont say ing thing about him.

We ain't throw some hard times, this year with the car (cold) blowing up and a lot of other thing. Your father dith want you to see that yer relly loved him and of course. The April 10, 1979, Tornato. We all suffd something and we still remember it for a life time. (writ yer glad we don't have to spent are money on Ruth, Gloria, Jana, Pam, and each other for lunch) We can spend it on something worth will. (Beer and wiskey) Your stay good see you this summer for a night

dear friend
Leary Sr 81.

Todd,
Boy has 6th period gone down the drain since you left especially for me! I was really getting close to you. Don't think that this is corny. I just wanted you to know that you are very special to me, and that I wish all the world for you. Maybe will have a class next year together wouldn't that be great! Don't forget me when you are a doctor or something remember me as you are flying across the ocean in a balloon, remember me as you make a daring jump across the Grand Canyon. Or you can just remember me when you need a friend because I always will remember you no matter what the occasion as a terrific friend. Best of everything. Good luck
